

LIMA MEN CLEARED OF PROFITEERING

'NAUGHTY' SHOW UNDER BAN

Mayor Bars Attraction Booked as "Girlesque Company of Marcus Peaches", Holding that It Is Vulgar and Immoral

Manager Cunningham Lambasts City Administration, Declaring It Is Being Influenced from the Outside

It's all off, boys. You can't see the "Girlesque company of three-fourths of a hundred damsels you'll want to embrace" Saturday.

It isn't good for your morals. At least that is what the mayor of Lima, the Hon. Frank A. Burkhardt, decreed Tuesday. Manager Cunningham of the Faurot, was informed by the city's executive that the show booked as the "Marcus Show of 1920" with the "Marcus Peaches" couldn't set up for business here Saturday. The police were given instructions to make the city safe for the men and keep out the girls, declared to be the prettiest in the business.

"The advertising and posters for the show are immoral and vulgar and are suggestive," said the mayor. "I understand that it is what is commonly termed a 'leg show' and I have decided that it shall not appear here. I have so notified Manager Cunningham in a letter and also informed him that if the show attempts to open police will close the house and bar patrons," the mayor added.

He said the show was closed in Toledo.

LAMBASTS ADMINISTRATION

"If Mayor Burkhardt lets some of these narrow-minded people influence him to such an extent as to censor amusements here, it is another step toward the enforcement of Blue Laws," L. H. Cunningham, manager of the Faurot theater, said late Tuesday afternoon when advised that an order had been issued by the mayor prohibiting the Marcus Show.

"Mayor Burkhardt has been hostile toward the theaters since he has been in office, when he levied a heavy tax on all picture shows."

The Marcus Show was in Lima last year at the Faurot. No objections were made to it then, and our friends who this year indicate that Lima is most consistent theater-goers intended to attend the performance.

"We will take the matter up with our attorneys. I cannot say just now what course we will pursue, but I do feel that the mayor is going too far," Mr. Cunningham continued.

"This theater never played burlesque shows. People know that our shows are clean and worthy of public patronage."

In regard to our advertisements, Mr. Mayor Burkhardt criticizes them, but he will soon be ordering B. V. D. ads removed from clothing store windows.

"I don't see how he has the right to stop a show he has never seen. In the past few weeks this same show has been in Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Ft. Wayne, Danbury, New Orleans and Indianapolis," Cunningham concluded.

This is the first official theater censorship of the city administration which has been leaning toward the "leg-show" trend. Considerable activity in other lines has been taken by the mayor, especially on card playing, night closing, removal of streets, dice, smoking and other "vice" matters, but this is declared to be the farthest-reaching order yet set out.

It was not announced whether a general local censorship of theatres will follow this.

RESUMES OFFICE

Vermilion Reappointed Director of Americanization

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — E. C. Vermilion today resumed his duties as state director of Americanization, having been recalled to that post after it was recalled by the legislature. His salary is $3,000 a month.

Vermilion resigned from the place December 31, when Ohio work ended. Since that time he has been Americanization director of Pittsburgh and Allegheny-co, Pennsylvania.

GAS CO. MADE

PARTY DEFENDANT

Supreme court Tuesday sustained the motion of the Lima Gas Light Co. to be made a party defendant in the artificial gas rate case of the city against the public utility commission. The motion was filed after the commission had raised a $1.90 rate and 35 cents service charge to the company.

RETURN 225 MEN INQUEST IN RAIL TO EMPLOYMENT WRECK DEMANED

Resume Work at L. E. & W. Shops Wednesday

State Starts Probe of Fatal Crash in Indiana

ORDERS RECEIVED TUESDAY

BLAME IS NOT YET FIXED

Announcement Made by Superintendent Tuesday

Number Killed in Porter Collision Still Undetermined

About 50 per cent of the employees at the Lake Erie and Western shops amounting to 225 men, will resume their work Wednesday morning, according to information given out at the office of the superintendent of motive power, Tuesday.

These shops have been closed since February 12. Additional men will be taken on as needed, but there is no definite information on this point. The force is expected to be sufficient for the present and there will be no change in the wage schedule.

According to J. J. Maginn, superintendent of motive power, the men laid off February 12, do not lose their priority rights and will be taken back with their former standing. The 225 men include machinists, boilermakers, blacksmiths and car repairmen with their helpers. Maginn says that most of these men have been working at other occupations or taking an enforced vacation since they were laid off and he feels positive that practically all will report for work Wednesday morning.

The order to put the men back to work arrived from headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind., Tuesday. Maginn says that the reduction of the force has greatly hampered the work of the railroad company but that their return to work means the revival of the former efficiency of the road.

TO SEND PASTORS WHERE NEEDED

Lima Ministers Attend Federation Meet at Columbus

Following a recent survey by the Ohio Federation of Churches which revealed that hundreds of communities of the state are now without resident ministers, it was agreed by denominational officials meeting in Columbus that a full time, resident minister, with church equipment adequate to meet both the social and religious needs of the people, is essential to proper religious development of rural communities.

Three ministers from Lima were present. They are: Revs. D. F. Holmes, W. N. Snyder and O. E. Smith.

Significant action taken by the conference was that declaring the need for elimination of superfluous churches in communities too small to support more than one with a full time pastor and adequate equipment.

It was recommended by the conference that in such "overchurched" communities members of the various churches should agree to place full responsibility for the community in one demonstration and others should withdraw.

By such readjustment, it is hoped to redistribute the pastors of Ohio, so that each community will have adequate pastoral care and each pastor will have ample field for effective work.

Of 762 communities reported in 50 counties, 203 are without resident pastors.

In Meigs-co it was pointed out, 12 of the 24 communities were found to be without resident ministers, while one community of only 600 people had three ministers and six churches.

CARUSO UNDERGOES THIRD OPERATION

NEW YORK — Enrico Caruso, who recently was critically ill from a heart attack following pleurisy, today underwent a third operation for removal of pus from the pleural cavity. His physicians announced he was now resting comfortably.

PLANT REOPENS

ELYRIA, Ohio — Another indication of the revival of the steel industry took place today, when the Elyria Iron and Steel Company reopened with 100 of its 450 employees back to work.

STATE REITS CASE

WILLIAMSON, W. Va. — The prosecution rested in the Malawan gun fight trial shortly before noon today. The state, however, reserved right for consultation until later in the day, and a recess was taken until one o'clock this afternoon.

PORTER, Ind. — (By Associated Press) — Investigations by Indiana state officials and officers of the Michigan Central and New York Central railroads were continued today to determine the cause of the wreck here Sunday night, fatal to 38 passengers on eastbound Michigan Central train.

Members of the Michigan Central train crew were closeted all day yesterday with General Superintendent J. L. McKee, but no state ment of the information obtained was given out. The inquiry was conducted at Niles, Mich., a few miles east of the scene of the wreck, and early today the officials returned to Porter for further investigation.

Henry Zink and J. Q. Martin, of Indiana public service commission were on the scene making a survey of the situation for the state, but gave no indication of the nature of the inquiry.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ACT

County officials of Porter-co early today took steps to have Orson H. O. Seipel of Porter-co call an inquest. Most of the statements so far obtained from railroad men connected with the wreck have been statements of press representatives, and Robert H. Moore, deputy prosecuting attorney of Porter-co, declared he would start mandamus proceedings against the coroner unless an inquest was opened at once, to take official testimony.

Both Towerman Joseph Cook and Operator Charles Whitehead insisted that the New York Central train was given the right of way and that the Michigan Central track signals were set to stop that train, as the signals always remain at "stop" until train approaches, they said.

New York Central officials declared the fact that the New York Central train did not leave the rails proved that the clear signal had been given that train, and pointed out that it is mechanically impossible to give both trains a clear signal.

Engineer W. E. Long and Fireman George Block, of the Michigan Central train, were still sequestered by Michigan Central officials, but in a statement given out by New York Central officials, they declared they saw the signal indicating they had a clear track. Their statement added that the proof of the clear signal lay in the fact that the engine and one coach passed over the derail and continued on the rails. New York Central officials declared, however, that the engine had been derailed and had jumped back on the rails when the front trucks struck the guard rails at the diamond crossing.

SEVERAL STILL MISSING

Of the 35 bodies taken to the Chesterton morgue, a mile from the wreck, identification had been made of all except two, but some of these were regarded by Coroner Seipel as unverified. The coroner declared the death total would not exceed 37 or 38, but information from relatives and friends showed half a dozen persons still unaccounted for early today. All of the wreckage had been searched early today except beneath the battered engine of the New York Central train.

Eight of the bodies had been claimed by relatives and removed for burial, but dismemberment of some made it difficult to determine the exact total and likewise to complete some of the identifications. One or two more may be beneath the engine, the coroner said, but he believed the death roster was complete.

Bodies of four women and one man remained today unidentified, but some of them could only be recognized by relatives, officials said.

All four of the most important witnesses in connection with the wreck are railroad men of long experience and this is said to be the first wreck in their careers. Engineer Long has 31 years of railroad service, and has been with the Michigan Central since 1890. Towerman Cook was acting as a substitute for the regular operator, Towerman Piering, but Cook had long experience with the levers.

HOUSE LECTURES TO BE GIVEN AT TRINITY CHURCH

"The Power of Suggestion" was the subject on which Dr. E. L. House lectured to a capacity house, Monday evening, at Market-st. Presbyterian church. It was the second in the series of night lectures being given by Dr. House.

He said that from every place, from everything, comes suggestions for good or bad that have a great influence on human life.

Owing to the big crowds which have been turned away, the lecture Tuesday evening will be held instead in Trinity M. E. church. The subject will be "The Destroyers and Builders of Health." This lecture is the one for which Dr. House has signed a 20-weeks' contract on the Pacific coast chautauqua circuit.

Dr. House lectured Tuesday afternoon at Market-st. Presbyterian church on "The Bridge of Faith."

G.O.P. RACE COST EIGHT MILLIONS

Senate Committee Makes Final Report on Campaign Expenses—Two Millions Spent for Cox—"Menace to Nation" Seen in Huge Sums

WASHINGTON—(By United Press)—The election of Harding, Coolidge and the Republican congress last November cost $8,100,739.21, the senate committee on campaign expenditures reported today.

The defeated Democrats spent $2,237,770.71. The sum named by the committee as the nearest possible approximation of the amount spent is $10,338,509.92. This is not all, the committee said, as it takes no account of the money used by the Socialists, the Farmer-Labor group, or the Non-Partisan League. Neither does it include money raised or spent locally and not reported to the national or state treasurer of the two major parties.

The huge expenditure, the report said, constitutes a "menace to the nation" which ought to be removed by constitutional amendment if necessary.

The report is the sequel to the long investigation conducted by the committee last summer, before and after Governor Cox charged that certain interests in the Republican party had raised a slush fund of $15,000,000.

The committee made no reference to Cox or his charges in Harding's campaign for nomination.

HEAD OF RUBBER COMPANY IS KILLED BY WOMAN

CHICAGO — (By United Press)—Mrs. Isabella C. Orthwein today shot and killed Herbert Zeigler, manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company here, in her apartment in the fashionable Gold Coast residence district.

Zeigler leaves a wife and a 16-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Orthwein told police Zeigler had been keeping company with her since she divorced her husband, a wealthy resident of St. Louis, six months ago. Her former husband is a stockholder in the St. Louis American League baseball club, and an oil promoter.

ENGAGEMENT BROKEN

Mrs. Orthwein said that the trouble started when Zeigler broke an engagement to take her to dinner last night.

"He told me there was a meeting of the stockholders of the Goodyear Company last night, and he couldn't take me to dinner," she said.

"He brought out a friend of his, who gave her name as D. O. Parsons, to take me out last night, and I went with him," she continued.

Parsons, according to the woman's story, took her to a cafe.

"I saw Zeigler there with two other women," she said. "An argument started and several bottles were thrown between tables."

WOUNDED BY WOMAN

Mrs. Orthwein said she finally told Zeigler not to come to see her again. Early today, she said, Zeigler tried to gain admittance to her apartment thru the back door. The door had a burglar-proof lock and he was unable to get in. Zeigler then went to the front door.

"I told him 'If you come in, I'll shoot you,'" she said. "And then ran into the bedroom and locked my door. He kept pounding on the door and I warned him again that I would shoot him, but he didn't leave."

Mrs. Orthwein while going to the door, knocked the telephone in the apartment from its stand. The receiver fell from the hook and the central heard shots. She notified police, who hurried to the apartment.

When the police arrived, they found the woman weeping over the lifeless body of the man.

HOPE ABANDONED FOR SCHOOL PUPILS OF THE CITY AFTER EASTER

Champ Clark Near Death, in Comatose State

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Hope for the recovery of Representative Champ Clark virtually was abandoned today by his physician. The Democratic house leader and former speaker, who is ill with pleurisy and a complication of other diseases, remained in a comatose state most of the morning and apparently was losing ground.

Charles Huffer Found Dead in His Bed; Wife Died Suddenly Recently

Charles Huffer, 60, retired farmer, Elida, was found dead in bed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Orville Rankin, Elida, Tuesday morning. Death was due to heart trouble.

Only a few months ago the death of Mrs. Huffer occurred suddenly. Huffer was born in Allen-co. Surviving, besides the daughter, are four brothers, and three sisters, William, George and Simon Huffer, all of Elida; Enos Huffer, Delphos; Miss Ellen Huffer and Mrs. William Whittington, both of Elida, and Mrs. William Hobaugh, Marion, Ind.

Funeral services Thursday at 2 o'clock at the United Brethren church, Elida. The Rev. Mr. Hendrickson will officiate. Interment will be at Greenlawn cemetery, near Elida.

Members of the finance committee of the Ohio House of Representatives passed thru Lima Monday night, en route to Columbus.

They inspected the Toledo state hospital and the state normal school at Bowling Green, over Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The lawmakers were conveyed in special car No. 23 by the Ohio Electric railway company.

Twenty-two members made up the party. They left Lima at six o'clock Monday night on their way to Columbus.

CLEAN BILL GIVEN NINE GROCERS

Federal Grand Jury Refuses to Act in Cases

ACTS BEFORE COURT RULING

Investigation of Coal Prices to be Dropped

Nine Lima grocersmen, Alvin Mco, Joseph R. Rickoff, C. R. Almoth, Jacob Piper, Thomas Shanahan, Frank Bonnauro, Edw. W. Stunupp, Ambrose Guyer and Francis R. Erasmus were given clean bills on charges of profiteering in sugar in the summer of 1920, as charged in Federal court, by action of the Federal grand jury at Toledo, Monday, in ignoring the cases when they were laid before that body.

IGNORES CASES MONDAY

The Federal grand jury is still in session and has not made its final report, but District Attorney Pilled Monday afternoon announced in advance of the jury's report that charges against the Lima grocers were not productive of indictments being returned.

The grand jury arrived at decision before announcement of the decision of the United States supreme court was made, declaring unconstitutional certain sections of the Lever food price control act and the court's decision had no bearing on the case.

PIROUETTE INVESTIGATIONS

Last summer, after representations of the prosecutor's office had visited soda stores, charges were filed in Federal court at Toledo by investigators Herman and Patterson against the Lima men. They were charged with having charged more than two cents a pound profit on sugar sold. Similar charges were filed against grocers elsewhere and the grand jury refused to indict in every case, it is stated.

DROP COAL CASES, TOO

Information from Toledo, Tuesday, was to the effect that an investigation of coal prices, conducted under the provisions of the Lever act, have been dropped by the bureau of investigation of the department and that charges expected to be brought in Federal court against numerous coal dealers will not be forthcoming.

WAR ON GERMANY THREATENS

Berlin's Indemnity Offer Ad-journs London Conference

PARIS — (By United Press) — Preliminary steps for the execution of military plans devised by the allies to force Germany obedience to reparations demands were taken today.

For the first time in over two years, trains of long-souled guns were being dragged toward the frontier. The guns were ready for instant service, if needed.

CONFERENCE STOPS

LONDON — (By United Press) — The allied supreme council adjourned suddenly today, after hearing the German offer on reparations.

Premier Lloyd-George was reported to have listened to the offer in amazement and to have remarked that if the proposal was the best Germany could offer, the conference might well be called off.

Another session will be held at 4 P. M.

7 BILLIONS OFFERED

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — Germany, thru her delegates to the "conference with the allies" here today, made reparations offer of approximately thirty billion gold marks, or about $7,500,000,000.

It was understood outside the conference that after Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister, had finished his statement on reparations to the conference, Mr. Lloyd-George, the British prime minister, replied in substance that unless the Germans had something more to offer than appeared in Dr. Simons' statement, there was no need of continuing the conference.

SENATE CALLS FOR FOREIGN LOAN LETTERS

WASHINGTON — Secretary Houston is "directed" in a resolution adopted today by the senate judiciary committee to produce complete treasury files of correspondence relating to foreign loans. Members of the committee said the resolution was practically a "quantity subpoena" in form.

The resolution was introduced by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, author of the bill to prohibit further loans to foreign governments and was adopted in executive session. Committee members said it made "mandatory" for the secretary to appear before the committee tomorrow with full correspondence.

HARDING CONFERS WITH WOOD

President-Elect Leaves Marion For Capital Tomorrow

MARION—(By Associated Press)—Returning to Marion for a short visit before entering the White House, President-elect Harding went to conferences today with Major General Leonard Wood, who is presently under consideration for appointment as governor of the Philippine Islands.

The president-elect has been made it is believed by these visits to Mr. Harding that his former chief opponent for the presidential nomination can have the island government if he wants it, and that the meeting of the two here today went a long way toward making the selection definite. A formal announcement on the subject may be made shortly.

The president-elect and Mrs. Wood reached their home town today at 10:30 a. m. The morning after the departure of more than five weeks, the general Wood there were no calls to be received today, but they were kept busy finally arranging their personal affairs and making farewell visits to their neighbors. Tomorrow they will be taken to the airport by the city and they will leave for Washington in the afternoon.

INVITATIONS SENT TO L. E. & W. OFFICIALS TO VISIT THIS CITY SOON

Letters sent out Tuesday from a special committee of Chamber Commerce to L. E. & W. officials, general manager of the L. E. & W. railroad, inviting him and his official family to Lima for a business conference with the committee. If the committee is successful, matters of interest to both the city and the railroad will be taken up, especially the Metcalf viaduct over the company's tracks.

The special committee was named to look into the viaduct matter and determine what steps should be taken. It was decided at a meeting Monday afternoon that the best plan would be to ask the officials of the road to come here for a conference. J. B. Dugan is chairman of the committee.

WAITING FOR HIGHER PRICES OF OIL OR LOWER DRILLING COSTS

A 40 barrel well has been completed by the Heppard Oil Co. on the C. W. Tennie farm in Liberty. Van Wert co.

A smaller well, of 10 barrel capacity, has been brought in by the Hudson Oil Co. in Dublin, Mercer co. This well is now being tubed.

The Andover Oil Co. is drilling on the J. M. Richards farm near the Heppard wells. New wells are not expected to be started until oil rises in value or the cost of putting down a well decreases.

WHEELER FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE THURSDAY

Funeral services for Leroy Wheeler, 121 E. Kirby-st., who died Monday, will be held Thursday at 2 o'clock at Grace Methodist church. The body will remain in the church from 1 to 2 p. m. Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

Wheeler was one of oldest members in point of service, of Grace church. He is prominently identified with Solar Lodge of Odd Fellows, El. Amanda encampment and Shawnee Lodge of Rebekahs. He came to Lima more than 50 years ago and was an active figure in south side business life for many years.

Besides the widow, he is survived by two daughters and two sons and a brother. Children are: Mrs. Mel. Allen, 721 S. Main-st.; Mrs. E. R. Edwards, Long Beach, Cal.; Frank Wheeler, 723 1-2 S. Main-st.; and R. H. Wheeler, Long Beach, Ind.

Wheeler, (Thomas, Ind.), is a surviving brother.

DR. HOUSE TO ADDRESS MEETING OF 4-MEN CLUB

A chicken supper and an address by Dr. E. L. House will be the features of the "4-Men's" club meeting Wednesday evening. Dr. House will speak on the subject "The Kind of a Man I Like." There are 100 members from the various factories are expected to attend.

This club, under A. D. Gann, president, is one of the few of its kind in the country. The largest one in Ohio is at Middletown. Its purpose is to promote a feeling of cooperation between the foremen of the various factories and make it possible for them to hear men of national prominence in various lines of work.

SOUTH SIDE WELFARE BODY TO SEE MOVIES AND HEAR ADDRESSES

Movies and addresses are on the program for the Friday night community entertainment, being put on at engine house number six by the South Side Welfare association. Mayor Burkhardt will speak, the movie "Fats and Pans Peggy" will be shown, and a five piece orchestra will play. The program begins at 7 p. m.

South side industries have fitted the engine house up in fine shape. The Lima locomotive company provided benches for 50, the Ohio Steel furnished the platform and the Solar Jeffery has given games and tables which are used on other evenings. The people themselves have purchased a piano.

Interest has grown by leaps and bounds. Last week 435 people attended the entertainment. A permanent organization has been formed with H. J. Lovett as president, Harry Chappell vice president and Harry Porter secretary and treasurer. Industrial secretary Biddle of the Y. M. C. A. is aiding in the work.

BISNETT-LIMBAUGH $1,000 DAMAGE SUIT IS ON TRIAL

Trial of the case of Paul Bisnett against M. J. Limbaugh for $1,000 damages, occupied the attention of Judge P. C. Becker and a jury in common pleas court Tuesday.

Bisnett introduced testimony to show he had a stock of goods and merchandise of Limbaugh in Maumee, Mo., on September, 1919, for $1,700. He testified that after the purchase Daniel Hasley, who owned the building, claimed part of the building and other articles, which he was forced to turn over. Bisnett claimed the goods under these premises. The jury took the case into the afternoon.

GIRLS' WELFARE LEAGUE "PENNY CARNIVAL" FRIDAY

Girls Welfare League of Central High School will hold their annual March festival Friday night at Central H. This "penny carnival," as it is called, is the one big yearly event of the league to provide funds to carry out their work of helping the poor.

A minstrel show, style show, baby show, etc., will feature the events. On this night all the other organizations of the school unite to help the league and practically every room in the building presents a show of some kind.

Great interest is being manifested in the carnival this year and it is expected that it will be a big success. Dorothy Bernstein is the president of the league.

Ralph Runyan Charges Failure to Pay on Agreement

Damages in the sum of $10,000 are asked by Ralph Runyan against Dr. Henry C. Hurd, W. J. Keys and W. E. Byars, in a suit filed in common pleas court Tuesday.

Runyan charges he was to organize a company to be known as the Cumulative Securities company. The men named defendants were to pay him $10,000 when organization was effected. He says he has complied with all the terms of the agreement, but that they refuse to pay him the cash. He says the contract is in the hands of Dr. Hurd.

Runyan asks damages for the amount.

SCHERMER BEGINS WORK OF BURIAL OF CARCASSES DECLARED A NUISANCE

Burial of the decayed carcasses, at the Edleman Fertilizer plant east of Lima, was begun Monday by Charles Schermer, according to Dr. J. J. Sutter. He claimed that, as he did not receive the notice until late Saturday, he would not be able to complete the work by Thursday, the date set by the Health Commissioner. An extension of time was granted by Dr. Sutter, provided the work be started at once and not delayed. Bad roads have rendered the transfer of the animals to Kallida impossible and made necessary burial on the premises. Schermer has notified the Health Commissioner that he will take care of no more dead animals at the present time as he cannot dispose of them.

GEORGE SCHROVE HOME BURNED

Jane Follas Burned by Liquid Stove Polish

DEATH OF MRS. S. W. WRIGHT

Two Taken on Charges of Liquor Law Violations

DELPHOS—(Special)—The home of George Schrove, two miles north-east of Ft. Jennings, along with most of its contents, was completely destroyed by fire, shortly after noon Sunday. The fire occurred while the family was absent, but neighbors succeeded in saving a small part of the furniture.

Ora Kimball and Al Honigford were arrested here and will be tried within the next few days in mayor's court on a charge of possessing and transporting liquor. They are charged with being intoxicated Monday afternoon. Police state that a Ford car they were driving crashed into a curb and was damaged.

Mrs. Hazel Angelina Laman, 30, young wife and mother, died at her home on W. Fourth-st., late Sunday, after being bedfast for several weeks. Death was due to complications. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Painter, east of this city. One child, Princess, with her husband, mother, two brothers and four sisters, survives. Funeral services Wednesday.

Mrs. S. W. Wright, 68, died late Sunday at her home two miles east of Delphos, after a two weeks' illness. She was the daughter of Jeremiah and Rebekah Long. Death was due to a combined attack of pneumonia and erysipelas. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, one sister and three grandchildren. Funeral Wednesday.

Christmas seals to the amount of $779.80 were sold in Delphos this year. Of this amount, $55.96 will be sent to the state to fight tuberculosis, and the remainder given to the Red Cross here.

While Jane Follas was polishing a hot stove, a bottle of liquid polish which she held in her hand exploded, seriously burning her members. A rug was fired, a door burst into flames and her clothing was slightly burned as a result. The flames were soon extinguished.

AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIMS ARE RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Eugene and Albert White, 13 and 11 years respectively, who were injured Saturday night when U. 12, Porter, 817 Brice-ave., drove into the coaster wagon on which they were riding, are recovering rapidly at St. Rita's hospital.

Porter said he could not see the kids because of the misty night. They were on an errand for their mother when the accident occurred.

OFFICE OF REVENUE COLLECTOR CROWDED; ERRORS IN RETURNS

The office of Deputy U. S. Internal Revenue Collector Peter Herr, in the postoffice building is crowded from morning to night with citizens of Lima and vicinity to make income tax returns. Of course, in the hurry to make out the blanks which rival the old draft questionnaire in complexity, many errors are made that of times if not detected would cheat the taxpayer and give Uncle Sam more than his due.

Collector Herr and Special Deputy Revenue Collector J. M. McMahon of Winthrop, Mass., are quite willing to help those perplexed in filing a return but ask that they come in this week. Both McMahon and Herr have made special studies of the income tax troubles and guide the uninformed thru the maze of red tape with ease.

Last week, according to McMahon, a large public service corporation made an error in its return that would have resulted in its paying tax on its reserve fund at least four months before due, if it had not been detected.

ORDER TO REMOVE DEAD ANIMALS TO BE OBEYED

A communication received Monday by County Health Commissioner Schermer, from Charles Schermer, stated that a notice to remove carcasses of animals from the site of a fertilizer plant on the Findlay road, one mile east of Lima, would be complied with at once.

Schermer, it is alleged in a complaint filed by the county health commissioner, has permitted dead animals to lie out in the open ground.

The ground and plant, which is owned by Nathan Edleman, is being rented by Schermer for the purpose of a temporary place of disposal, until removed to the latter's own place at Kalida.

FORMER ALLEN-CO WOMAN DIES Mrs. John Sanders died Monday morning at her home at Muskegon, Mich., according to word received here by her cousin, Ernest John, local auto salesman. She was a daughter of J. B. Strawbridge, formerly of Delphos.

Twelve states have voted war bonuses to former service men.

WAR IS DECLARED ON DAVIS' CODE

Reorganization Plan Opposed by Bankers, Doctors

HIT BY HEALTH BOARDS, TOO

Battle Lines Drawn As Measure
Reaches Assembly

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press.) Governor Davis' administrative code providing for the reorganization of the state departments, which was passed by the legislature last week, has been met with a storm of opposition in the assembly today. The measure, which was passed by a vote of 13-10, is being opposed by the bankers, doctors, and other groups who are interested in the health of the state.

The proposed code, which was passed by the legislature last week, is being opposed by the bankers, doctors, and other groups who are interested in the health of the state. The measure, which was passed by a vote of 13-10, is being opposed by the bankers, doctors, and other groups who are interested in the health of the state.

One change from the original proposal was announced today. Instead of abolishing the state health council as originally proposed, this board is to be retained, but power of appointing the health commissioner is taken away from the council and vested with the governor. He will be known as director of health instead of health commissioner.

It was discovered that the health council acts in a quasi-judicial capacity in passing on plans for local waterworks and sewer disposal plants, and have abolished the council, would have necessitated changes in the laws relating to this work.

Representative C. C. Crabbe of Madison, majority leader in the house, is to introduce the reorganization code. It will be ordered printed and referred to the committee on reorganization for consideration upon the reconvening of the legislature March 7.

OPPOSITION LINE UP — The reorganization program is expected to encounter much opposition. Public health organizations are said to be opposed to the policy of making the term of the health officer expire every two years with that of the governor. It is now appointed by the public health council for a six-year term.

The medical profession, dental profession, embalmers, and other administrative officers will oppose the proposition of having all the administrative work for these boards handled by a single department of registration and depriving the profession of a voice in the naming of these administrative officers.

BANKERS OPPOSE — Since the state medical board was established in 1891, it has had but three state secretaries. If the governor's plan is adopted, it is argued the department would be subject to change every two years. A lot of these departments are supported by fees paid in by the members of the various professions. Bankers are also said to oppose any change of the law which would destroy the identity of the department of supervision of banks.

The code has been prepared by George E. Frazier of Illinois, who assisted in the reorganization of the Illinois state departments under Governor Lowden's administration and by Clarence A. Laylin of the attorney general's department. The citizens' taxation committee named by Governor Davis continued in session today, preparing its report to Governor Davis on permanent taxation measures.

FED AND TAUGHT NO CHARGE

Kentucky Has One of Most Unique Public Schools

FREE LUNCH FOR PUPILS

Students, Coming From Anywhere, Not Assessed

PAIDUHAN, Ky. — (By Associated Press.) — McCracken county has, in the Reidsland school, located several miles from this city, what educators say is one of the most unique public school enterprises in the country. The school has seven teachers, including kindergarten and home economics instructors; 175 pupils; gives a free lunch to every pupil attending; takes any child free of charge regardless of whether his home is in the district and now is preparing plans for the erection of a $25,000 building. The school is maintained without any increase in the tax levy above the figure at which it stood seven years ago according to its sponsors.

LATEST ENTERPRISE — The latest enterprise of the school is the incorporation of the "Reidsland School Free Lunch Association," owned and operated by the pupils under the direction of three of the teachers, who for purposes of organization are listed as officials. The association has a capital stock of $1,000.

Last summer the trustees purchased ten acres of land as a site for the new school building. On this land garden tracts have been set aside and in these the boys will raise garden stuff, potatoes and other vegetables needed for the lunches. A poultry flock will be maintained and $500 of the capital is to be invested in a registered and tested dairy cow for furnishing milk. Various funds are available after the association gets started as a capitalized affair will be invested in breeding stock, according to W. Mike Oliver, an attorney, who is credited with being the guiding spirit in the work done in the district during the last seven years.

CAN VEGETABLES — The vegetables raised in the school garden are to be canned by members of the Girls' Gaining Club, and adjacent of the local community center, and which last year canned several hundred quarts of vegetables. The lunches will be cooked by the class and cooking as part of their course. At present lunches are prepared from foodstuffs furnished by residents of the district.

Credit for the project and its success is given largely to W. Mike Oliver, well known in Western Kentucky as an authority on drainage law.

ENGLISH COTTON FLOODS U. S.

Yarn Sent Here Last Year Shows
Big Increase

LONDON — During 1929 cotton yarn to the amount of nine and three-quarter million pounds, was exported to the United States.

Only three and three-quarter million pounds was exported in 1929 and even before the war, in 1913, the amount reached was only five and a quarter million pounds.

The export of cotton piece goods to the United States last year amounted to 102,000,000 square yards, as compared with 40,000,000 yards in 1913 and 44,000,000 yards in 1912. There has, however, been a notable decrease in the shipments of yarn and cottons to Europe. There was a drop of 34,000,000 pounds of yarn sent to France, as compared with pre-war shipments, and the shipments of cotton cloth to Denmark, Belgium and France also showed notable decreases.

The importance of the Lancashire cotton industry can be gauged by the fact that Britain's total exports in 1929 were valued at almost $8,000,000,000, of which total manufactured cotton goods accounted for over two billion dollars. The year 1929 was probably the most remarkable in the history of the industry, opening with the greatest trade boom ever known and ending with severe depression and extensive unemployment.

ALLEGED PICKPOCKET FAILS TO HAVE BOND REDUCED AS SOUGHT

Clyde Harper, E. North-st., arrested here two weeks ago, charged with pocket picking, failed to have his bond reduced, after trial before an examining court Monday afternoon.

Judge J. H. Hamilton bound him over to the grand jury in the sum of $1,000. Harper was remanded to the county jail.

He is charged with relieving W. O. Pence, Sidney, of $250 while Pence was a guest at the Manhattan hotel on February 19, last. Testimony was introduced to show Harper passed large sums of money after the alleged theft occurred.

Harper is said to have a police record and to have been a deserter from the army.

EXPECT GAS PROBLEM TO BE SOON SOLVED

It is expected that vital steps towards the solution of Lima's gas problem will be taken at the special meeting of the city council called for Tuesday night. A committee from the Chamber of Commerce will submit a proposition to the council that, according to Manager Johnson of the Chamber, if passed will result in harmony between each faction and ultimately result in the enactment of a franchise favorable to all concerned.

PENNSY. REDUCES LIMA FORCE

Switch Crew of Eight Men Laid off Tuesday—Other Cuts

The first drastic cut in the forces of the Pennsylvania railroad in Lima was made Tuesday when eight men of the yard force, including an entire switch crew, were laid off. The order was received Monday by Yardmaster C. E. Hyman. This is in accordance with the recent policy of the Pennsylvania company in reducing its force of employees.

The freight and ticket department has been reduced 20 percent in the past four months. Seven employees have been laid off, including clerks and freight handlers. Freight and Ticket Agent W. W. Crooks said Monday that he is contemplating no further cut in his forces. The personnel of freight and ticket agents were combined the first of the year.

I will not be responsible for any debts made by my wife, Florence Otto after this date. W. A. Otto.

ACTIVITIES OF THE Y. W. C. A.

Rehearsals for an exhibition in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium work, to be held early in March, will be started immediately by Miss Gardner, the physical director. She has requested that all those who have taken work in these classes see her at once as to the time of meeting. The money from this entertainment will be used as a nucleus of a fund to provide a summer camp for girls.

The Trotter Veech club will meet Tuesday evening at six o'clock. After a luncheon the discussion and Bible class work will be taken up. The film showing the customs of the Japanese girls and the work of the Y. W. C. A. in Japan, which was shown at the Twilight Hour meeting Sunday, will be shown again. All girls and women are invited.

Mrs. Simpson, head of the employment bureau, has a number of girls on her list who desire employment. This service is free to both the employer and the employee.

Scrap books made by the Service Committee have been placed in the Day Nursery and in the children's wards of the hospitals.

"VILLAGE IS SHOT OFF THE MAP"

W. Va. Town Wrecked in Battle, Governor Reports

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Governor-elect E. F. Morgan, who yesterday visited and inspected the workings of the Willis Branch Coal Company in Fayette-co. and the surrounding village of Willis Branch, where much of the fighting took place February 11, and upon their return to Charleston announced that the town resembled having been "literally shot off the face of the map."

The trip was made by the governor and his successor in response to a request from the Willis Branch Company for and local armed protection. The governor-elect declined to say what he intended to do about the case after examining office but he made this comment:

It is inconceivable that such conditions could exist in this day and age.

Governor Cornwell, however, described conditions there more in detail.

"It's citizens have abandoned it," he said, referring to the village, "leaving personal effects, furniture and livestock behind. With the exception of half-famished dogs, cats and chickens which wander about the streets and a squad of state police on duty near the station, the town is devoid of life. The company store, office, postoffice, mine foreman's home and 65 of the remaining 67 cottages are riddled with rifle bullets. The condition of other cottages shows they have been turned or wrecked with dynamite."

Sugar was introduced into America by the Spaniards in 1520.

"He Profits Most

The Lima News
AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT

BY HOWARD BURBA

FEBRUARY, the birth-month of big men and big movements, draws to a close. With its passing will be recorded new tributes to the Father of this Country and to the savior of a race. And with it a record of a new and different holiday—the birthday of Rotary—the most modern of all movements, an organization that is giving to the world a new expression of the Golden Rule.

Sixteen years ago last Wednesday, on Feb. 23, to be exact, four men met in a Chicago office building at the close of business hours. Each was "lonesome," frankly admitted it, and confessed that a longing for companionship had led him to that particular office. Paul P. Harris, a young attorney, sat at his desk in the big office building and extended a hand of fellowship to his three visitors.

"This thing you fellows call 'lonesomeness' must be contagious," laughed Harris. "I've had frequent touches of it lately. Somehow I imagine that out in the world, all over this land, there are this evening men who feel the same symptoms. Why wouldn't some kind of a club—not a lodge or a mysterious secret society—just a club to promote a closer acquaintanceship among business and professional men—prove the best cure to be found for this malady we call 'lonesomeness'?"

And then there was born Rotary—the spirit of Service.

Harris quickly found that his visitors were known in the business and professional world as a coal dealer, a coal operator and a merchant tailor. Across the hall was a printer, and he called him over. The club idea was explained to him; he admitted point-blank that he was subject to spells of "lonesomeness," and he was "sold" on the club proposition at once.

They decided to meet in the young attorney's office once each week. It was agreed at the start that only one man from each profession should be invited to membership and that in the event of vacancy the retiring member's place should be filled by a man engaged in a similar business. Many believe that this brought about the christening of the organization, that it was called "Rotary" because it means a rotation of membership with special attention to the business in which its members are engaged. This is not, however, a clear understanding of the origin of the name.

It is recorded in Rotary history that two teamsters in a not far distant city once watched a parade passing down the street, and noticed in the line a string of automobiles bearing Rotary banners. A car became stalled and one of the teamsters, examining the Rotary emblem of the wheel, was overheard to carefully explain to the other that the Rotarians were wagon-makers and that their emblem was the wagon-wheel, so that the name "Rotary" was chosen because a wagon wheel has a rotary motion. However, the true facts were that "Rotary" was decided upon because the members of the new club had at the outset agreed to hold their meetings in "rotation" in the places of business of business of the different members.

SOME ROTARY FACTS

First club organized with four members in Chicago in 1905.

Name "Rotary" adopted because original club "rotated" their meetings among business offices of members.

Limited membership plan is one of foundations of Rotary strength.

Rotary has no "paid" organization; the international association is "unpaid" and "unpaid" about accepting new clubs.

There are now over 800 clubs with a total membership of 65,000.

There are many Rotary clubs now in foreign countries.

No Rotary club has ever failed to make good; none has ever surrendered its charter.

Rotary clubs have a higher percentage of attendance of members at meetings than any other organization meeting made up of business and professional men. Average attendance of all clubs in United States and Canada, in December, 77.49 per cent.

The local club was organized in 1915. It now has 141 members.

Rotary principles and activities are based upon the belief that "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

They did not like the name "Rotation Club," so they agreed upon the shorter form, the form which the whole world knows today as "Rotary."

From the very start the club proved a success; the group grew steadily, yet like its young founder, its identity was lost in a large city. But its fame spread gradually, and three years after organization one of the original members, on a visit to San Francisco, implanted the idea there, and the second Rotary Club was organized. The spirit of the new west caught it up quickly, and clubs were organized up and down the Pacific coast. The effort East rushed its eyes, grasped the big thing back of the movement—Service—and received it enthusiastically. Then it spread to the Sunny Southland, and at the close of 1910 there were sixteen live, progressive Rotary clubs in the United States.

The first national convention of the organization was held that year in Chicago, a "National Association" formed and officers selected. Paul Harris, founder of the movement, was honored with the national presidency. Today he wears the laurels of President Emeritus.

In 1912 Winnipeg, Canada, formed a club, the first to be organized outside of the States. London sought a charter a few months later whereupon it was decided to extend the scope of the movement to include every civilized country on the globe, so the "International Association of Rotary Clubs" was formed. By 1916, the number of clubs had increased to 250, with approximately 27,000 members. Two or three more had been organized in England, several more in Canada, and South American and Cuban cities were applying for charters.

Since 1916 a sufficient number of clubs have been formed and accepted into the International Association to bring the total to more than 800 clubs, with an estimated roster of 65,000 Rotarians. In addition to clubs in the United States, Canada, England, Scotland and Ireland, and aside from the six in Cuba, there are active Rotary organizations in the following cities: Madrid, Spain; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montevideo, Uruguay; San Juan and Ponce, Porto Rico; Panama City and Colon, Panama; Honolulu and Hilo, Japan; Manila, Philippines; Tokyo, Japan; Shanghai, China, and Calcutta, India.

In the rapid organization of Rotary clubs the world gave a practical demonstration of the fact that it always welcomes that which will prove helpful to mankind. The world accepted the Rotary Code of Ethics as a new doctrine of world-service, a new and modern application of those things which are destined to lift the level of human ideals to a still higher standard.

In 1915 Lima fell into line, and received her Rotary charter. Today the Lima Rotary Club counts upon its membership rolls 141 business and professional men, each of whom not only subscribes to the tenets of the organization, but carry them out in their business and social life. They have subscribed to the Code of Ethics, and pledged themselves to fair dealings, honest methods and high standards in business. They have always in mind the full meaning of Rotary's slogan: "Service Above Self—He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

The Code of Ethics, as adopted in 1915, sets forth the principles and practices which should exist not only between Rotarians but between business and professional men everywhere. To read the Code of Ethics is to realize why this relatively new movement has gone forward by leaps and bounds. For long years men have been waiting for this very thing—the world has been hungering for such an organization, based upon such ennobling principles. From its inception Rotary has become a living thing in the hearts of men who seek to serve their fellowman, a living force in the lives of men who had formerly been obsessed with the one idea that business is simply the means of enabling men to make money.

To the Rotarian life becomes an investment, not measured in terms of dollars, but in terms of the faithful discharge of a man's highest duties to those with whom he has any kind of association.

Lima has witnessed the wonderful community welfare work of her Rotary Club, and she is proud to extend her heartfelt good wishes and sincere congratulations during this anniversary week. Since the local club was instituted it has given special attention to the youth of Lima, believing that by aiding in their training the men of tomorrow are being moulded along proper lines. This year special attention is given to relieving the sufferings of crippled children thruout Lima and Northwestern Ohio, and this is going to be one of the principal features of this year's program. Rotarians' hearts are deeply touched by the sight of a crippled child—and the purse strings of a Rotarian are never drawn when there is an opportunity to extend relief. So this year will see hundreds of dollars quietly and unostentatiously spent by members of this organization in bringing relief to that class of little ones who are unable to assist themselves. Here, truly, is exemplified the spirit of Service—the same class of Service as the Master must have had in mind when He said: "Even as ye do it unto the least of these, my children, ye do it unto me."

Headquarters of Rotary are permanently established at the Hotel Norval. Regular meetings are held at noon each Monday. There is usually a special speaker for the occasion, there is a flow of good fellowship thruout the entire course of each session, and as they talk and smoke they lay a solid foundation for still greater service, for action aid to those about them in a city which they love and respect and which in turn endorses their institution and all it represents.

The local club is guided this year by the following officers: Ralph Austin, president; L. O. Larrea and Fred C. Becker, vice presidents; and L. S. Galvin, secretary-treasurer.

THE PARADISE MYSTERY

By J. S. FLETCHER

"Very likely," said Jettison. They had crossed the close by that time and came to a lamp which stood at the entrance, and the detective pulled out his watch and glanced at it. "Ten past 11," he said. "You say you know this Bryce pretty well?"

"Now, would it be too late—if he's up still—to take a look at him?" If you and he are on good terms, you could make an excuse. After what I've heard, I'd like to get at close quarters with this gentleman."

"Easy enough," assented Mitchell. "I've been there as late as midnight—before the close study goes to bed before midnight. Come on—it's close by. But—not a word of where we've been. I'll say I've dropped in to give him a bit of news."

"I'll tell him about the jewel business and see how he takes it. And we'll be there—size him up."

"Mitchington was right in his description of Bryce's habits—Bryce rarely went to bed before 1 o'clock in the morning. He liked to sit up, reading. His favorite mental food was found in the lives of statesmen and diplomats, most of them of the sort famous for trickery and chicanery—he not only made a close study of the ways of these gentry but wrote down notes and facts of passages which particularly appealed to him. His lamp was burning when Mitchell and Jettison came in."

"Bryce was doing no thinking about success—his mind was fixed on his own affairs. He had lighted his fire on going home and for an hour had sat with his legs stretched out on the fender carefully weighing things up. The event of the night had convinced him that he was at a critical phase of his present adventure, and it behooved him, as a good general, to review his forces."

The forestalling of his plans about the hiding place in Paradise had upset Bryce's schemes—he had figured on being able to turn that secret, whatever it was, to his own advantage. It struck him now, as he meditated, that he had never known exactly what he expected to get out of that secret—but he had hoped that it would have been something which would make a few more considerable and tightly strung meshes in the net which he was endeavoring to weave around Ransford. Now he was faced by the fact that it was not going to yield anything in the way of help—it was a secret no longer, and it had yielded nothing beyond the mere knowledge that John Braden, who was in reality John Brake, had turned the secret to Wrychester—to reveal it in the proper quarter."

That helped Bryce in no way—so far as he could see. And therefore he was necessary to re-state his case to himself; to take stock; to see where he stood—and more than all, to put plainly before his own mind exactly what he wanted."

And just before Mitchell and the detective came up the path to his door, Bryce had put his notions into clear phraseology. His aim was definite—he wanted to get Ransford completely into his power thru suspicion of Ransford's guilt in the affairs of Braden and Collishaw. He wanted, at the same time, to have the means of exonerating him—whether by fact or by craft—so that, as an ultimate method of success for his own projects he would be able to go to Mary Beverly and say "Ransford's very life is in my mercy; if I keep silence, he's lost; if I speak, he's saved; it's now for you to say whether I'm to speak or hold my tongue—and you're the price I want for my speaking to save him!"

It was in accordance with his views of human nature that Mary Beverly would accede to his terms; he had not known her and Ransford for nothing, and he was aware that she had a profound gratitude for her guardian, which might even be akin to a yet unawakened warmer feeling. The probability was that she would willingly sacrifice herself to save Ransford—and Bryce cared little by what means he won her, fair or foul, so long as he was successful. So now, he said to himself, he must make a still more definite move against Ransford. He must strengthen and deepen the suspicion which the police already had; he must give them chapter and verse and supply them with information, and get Ransford into the tightest of corners, solely that, in order to save Mary Beverly, he might have the credit of pulling him out again. That, he felt certain, he could do—by the time Ransford he could also invent a two-edged sword which would cut every mesh of that net into fragments. That would be—child's play—more statecraft—elementary diplomacy. But first—to get Ransford fairly bottled up—that was the thing! He determined to lose no more time—and he was thinking of visiting Mitchellton immediately after breakfast next morning when Mitchellton knocked at his door.

Bryce was rarely taken back, and on seeing Mitchellton and a companion, he forthwith invited them into his parlor, put out his whisky and cigars, and pressed both on them as if their late call were a matter of usual occurrence. And when he had helped both to a drink, he took care himself, and tumbled in hand, dropped into his easy chair again.

"We saw your light, doctor—so I took the liberty of dropping in—to tell you a bit of news," observed the inspector. "But I haven't introduced my friend—this is Detective Sergeant Jettison, of the Yard—we've got him down about this business—must have help, you know."

Bryce gave the detective a half-sharp, half-careless look and nodded.

"Mr. Jettison will have abundant opportunities for the exercise of his talents," he observed in his best cynical manner. "I dare say he's found that out already."

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE PROMISE

Experienced dancers tho they were, the entire company watched Gwenda's every movement, at her first rehearsal of the Lily. The dance was different from the sort of work they were familiar with, but they seemed to be delighted with both the idea and the girl, judging from the exclamations of surprise and approval that were waited to Gwenda, all the time she occupied the center of the stage. Vassili beamed his complete confidence in her success, and told Gwenda in front of the company that she had a great future.

Of course they were up and down in the new work, and once or twice at the end of a particularly hard day's rehearsal Gwenda was more than half inclined to throw up her engagement and join the staff of John Nesle's paper. A good night's rest always dispersed any doubts on her part, however, and she invariably awakened the next morning, refreshed and eager for the work before her. Dancing seemed to satisfy some primitive wildness that stirred deep down in her. The motions alone, in each dance were sheer joy to her and an outlet for effervescent spirits. Everything else in life seemed tame, as compared with this.

At the end of the first week's rehearsal Vassili put her into an Arabian dance. She was the solo danseuse, and three wonderful boys of the company were her foils. The gorgeous costumes delighted the excited girl, and then, too, the honor for it was a dance that one of Vassili's most famous dancers had always danced.

The sheerest of purple gauzes, composed of fluttering trousers of the costume, and a bejeweled stomachacher of gold and flame was her covering from waist to thighs. Ruby breastplates, large and sparkling, were the sole adornments for the body of Gwenda, and a massive and jewel encrusted bracelet was clasped about her right ankle. When she danced. She had to get used to the dyeing of her body, for her skin was far too light to be considered Arabian, and the dyeing process proved most trying to her at first. But as it seemed to make her nakedness less apparent, Gwenda was pleased. Much did Vassili marvel at the beauty of his find, when first she appeared in the Arabian costume. And much did he marvel at the quickness with which she learned the dance itself.

"You were simply born a dancer, Miss Gwenda," he assured her, with tears of joy running down his face, as she dropped wearily into a chair.

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

Tells How He Did It.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 ounce of glycerine."

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

Take It In Time!

DO you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

DO you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

DO you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

Why not give a fair trial to this medicine after the tenth rehearsal of the dance, and Vassili will make your name known far and wide if you will do all that he says. All, my little heart."

"I had become a universal favorite with the company, and grew to like these new friends of hers very much. They were such a happy bunch of artists. They were so genuinely in love with their work, and so free from all pretensions, simple-minded as children, yet complicated as only Slavs can be. The oldest of them could be teased to tears over a torn frock just as easily as the youngest. And they lived to laugh."

THE YAP MANDATE

IN a note addressed to the council of the League of Nations, Secretary of State Colby makes it very emphatic that we are unable to accept the award of the island of Yap to Japan. Colby's note is all the more impressive and sharp because of its somewhat direct intimation that when the council acted some time ago it was upon information that was far from being exact. In other words, it was hinted that something important had been withheld from the council.

That there was no excuse for the presentation of this incorrect information is broadly hinted in the reminder that the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan had been fully informed as to our position.

Our position is this: Because the island of Yap enters necessarily into any system of practical communication by cable in the Pacific, it naturally follows that "no power can limit or control its use."

Colby's note puts it squarely up to the council to order another investigation, in which the position of the United States may be made perfectly clear and all the facts presented in such a manner as to leave no excuse for misunderstanding.

It will be embarrassing for the council to refuse to order a new investigation after the Colby note. Uncle Sam's position has been well defined. The other powers of the earth know just where we are at. The incident of the island of Yap has been heard around the world and if there isn't a change in the plan to conform to the general understanding, to the end that America's interests are given the consideration they deserve, then there will likely be something more strenuous in the way of diplomacy—and it doesn't mean war, either.

The old British lion used to growl and lash his tail and everybody scurried to shelter. When the American eagle screams it's the signal for somebody to be scared.

NOVELTIES NOT POPULAR

CONTRARY to the impression that the American people are easily "taken in," the general public of this country is slow to snap up novelties, no matter how much they are worth or how essential. Many manufacturers of what today are the most generally used articles can relate many amusing stories of their struggle when they first introduced their products. Nothing demonstrates this better than the history of the bathtub.

Real estate men now say that a convenient and well-appearing bath room is a big asset in selling the property; that prospective buyers pay a great deal of attention to this particular improvement. But it was not always so.

When bathtubs were first introduced they were lambasted as a menace to democratic simplicity and in fact a danger to health.

An ordinance was introduced in Philadelphia to prohibit bathing between November and March. It almost passed.

Boston made bathing unlawful except on medical advice.

Virginia imposed a tax of $30 a year on bathtub owners.

Bathing then probably was more essential than now yet the people resented bathtubs because they were new. The same has been true in many other instances.

SAVING THE TREES

MARCH 1, this day and spring opening is near at hand—on March 21, to be exact. Only three more weeks, then the period of budding trees and blossoming flowers.

With the near approach of the time when nature undergoes its gradual change from the solitude of winter to the gaiety and the bright verdure of spring, comes a return of the thoughts of regret at the passing from the landscape of those wonderful works of nature—the trees.

While, for the most part, the destroying hand of man has been stayed, the slaughter of trees goes on, mercilessly, in another manner. All too few persons have an appreciation of the boon that is ours in the possession of forests of stately sentinels that serve mankind in many ways other than being felled, to be reduced to articles of manufacture or to be consumed by fire that men may be kept warm.

The dream of most every crowpenny owner who rears his home in a crowded city district where long years ago the trees have been felled, is to have about his place symmetrical rows of thrifty and wide spreading growth that cast their arms and foliage far out to catch the rays of the sun and rob them of their torridness.

Young trees are planted, are carefully nurtured, grow to stately height and perform their functions of usefulness—then they are forgotten. Neglected, they are attacked by insect pests. Their numbers increase unrestrained and the work of destruction is soon so far advanced that nothing will stop it. The trees die, their day is done and the surroundings that they once so faithfully served are again exposed to the heat of the summer's sun and the frigid blast of winter winds.

In other states steps are being taken to arrest the ravages of the tree pest. In Ohio, we plant one tree to offset ten destroyed. In most localities no steps are taken to kill the pests and save the trees, fruit or shade. We are paying the penalty of neglect, but we are either too indolent or careless to realize it. The danger is that too late we will awake to the situation.

"JAZZ, WORK OF DEMONS"

AT last we know why and by whom that brand of noise commonly called jazz music was invented. At least we have been told by a prominent educator that it is the work of demons and intended for the torture of imbeciles.

None other than the former minister to Holland, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, professor of literature at Princeton university, has made this broad assertion. Many who have been forced to assimilate considerable quantities of this alleged music will readily agree with him.

The learned doctor advocates protection against this, a deadly art, as he terms it on the same ground that the state affords protection to society by prohibiting promiscuous gun-toting. He goes further and urges that, in addition to legislative action, concerted educational work be done to eliminate it from our midst.

Whether or not jazz music is as bad and as detrimental as he paints it is a debatable question. The fact remains, however, that music of a more sane nature before this boisterous slam-bang mixture came into being filled our everyday needs and might even do so again.

THE CONSTANT THINGS

Fame and wealth may come and go,
The lights of splendor flicker low,
And sometimes die, but the simpler things,

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS
By William Brady, M. D.

THE MENACE OF TYPHUS

Three deaths from typhus fever, one of the victims being a Brooklyn boy, have occurred in New York up to the time this is written. The New York health commission, apparently unmindful of our established national policy of watchful waiting, has endeavored in vain to protect the people of New York City and of the country at large from a fresh accession of typhus fever. The federal authorities in control of the coast have thus far successfully supported the right of the coast to a place in the shirt of the potential American citizen. In an inspection of some 352 immigrants at the Battery, after they had been admitted by federal guardians, the health board found that the European stock of typhus has friends among the personnel of the federal administration or else that immigration inspectors need some new glasses. Twenty-one cases of typhus fever, on one ship and fifteen on another bearing pilgrims to the land of promise, were reported to the health board. The health board is now in control of the coast for the safety of the country, no matter how many cooties may be ruthlessly excluded. Three out of four persons sent to Long Island College hospital from the steamship "Presidente Wilson," as cases of typhus fever, were found to have typhus fever, and were promptly returned to quarantine.

Bearing in mind the agency of the body louse in transmitting typhus, common names for typhus fever assume greater significance; jail fever, ship fever, camp fever, and (in some parts of Europe) hospital fever. Another common name suggests a characteristic sign of typhus fever, the rash: spotted fever. Sporadic cases were observed in New York City for years un-

No other contagious or communicable disease has had so many victims among nurses and doctors caring for the patients as has typhus fever, in time past. Among 1230 physicians attending typhus patients in Ireland, 550 succumbed to the disease. That illustrates the great danger doctors have always willingly undergone and never have been known to flinch. One young Chicago physician, Dr. H. T. Rickouts, studying typhus in Mexico, contracted the disease and died. I shall have another article on typhus tomorrow.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is not a lucky day.
The stars are not favorable for those holding office, since many changes are predicted.

Public welfare movements should benefit, and so should plans for hospitals or other public institutions which will serve humanity.

This is a bad time to undertake important changes in business or plan new movements for personal gain.

Persons whose birthday this is, should avoid change during the coming year.

Children born on this day will be temperamental and changeable, but will be honest, affectionate and popular. (Copyright, 1921)

GEORGE BEBAN IS WITH US AGAIN THIS WEEK

Notable Character Actor With His Hands as Well as With His Tongue

Marcus Show Coming Saturday—Movie Directory Dis-closes Good Ones

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)
THERE'S a sort of sentiment about "One Man In A Million" that will warm your heart and unless you're cold-blooded and stone-hearted you will find yourself un-able to resist the charm and pathos of the story. For it is a human story.
George Beban heads the cast but seems to me that the star per-former is his little son, George, Jr., who plays the role of the little Bel-lows. But perhaps you'd like to know what it's all about.
Well, Luzzo Delchini is a wait-er, a quick lunch, owned and oper-ated by Gustav Koppel, a crook if ever there was one. And because the waiter is a great-heart and cannot see anyone suffer, he loses his job because he befriends a would-be customer and customer turns out to be in the and service of something and a career for Luzzo the exalted posi-tion of city pound master.
Luzzo, with his ready smile and ad-vantagous hands is all joy and con-fidence to become the keeper of the key-words. And now my dears, the plot thickens.
The Koppels are engaged in the life-time business of adopting home-ly little waifs and teaching to them the rudiments of the gentle art of pickpocketing. Hence the Belgian wait, whom they secretly befriend, is a trained thief and self-defense in-treatment causes the little fel-low to run away and he is taken in by the gracious Luzzo, together with a big game which he had pick-up somewhere.
The mother now arrived on the scene looking for her lost son, and having she has found him, consents to stay in America and they have a happy little family, the dog-catcher, the dogs, the little boy, the mother and the stenographer, played by Jean Jerome Elv. But it trans-pires that this is the wrong little boy and the have a terrible time before they are all sure of themselves. Lu-zzo marries—who do you suppose he marries?
"One Man In A Million" is replete with comedy, tears and a certain amount of realism. But in many spots it completely offends your in-dulgence and things happen that will happen only in the movies—events no where else. The entire cast is splendid, the photography and scenery are O. K. and if you're a lover of dogs you'll have a chance to see plenty of 'em in this picture, for he whole thing is mostly about dogs. "One Man In A Million" is the fea-ture attraction today at the Lyric.

Faurot—The Marcus Show
Coming to the Lyric at next Satur-day for afternoon and night per-formances the Marcus Show of 1920 is the best of its kind, bigger and bet-ter in every respect over last season. There is an ensemble of seventy-five including a notable cast and famous "peach" chorus. It is a thrilling, da-hing, tuneful and very entertainment with a gor-geous array of costumes and scen-ery. The seat sale opens Friday morning. Advance orders may be taken now.

There's a Reason For Continued Prosperity

The United States has only 6 per cent of the population of the world and yet it produces:
20% of the world's gold supply. 60% of the world's aluminum supply.
25% of the world's wheat supply. 60% of the world's cotton supply.
40% of the world's iron and steel supply. 66% of the world's oil supply.
40% of the world's lead supply. 75% of the world's corn supply.
40% of the world's silver supply. 85% of the world's automobile supply.
50% of the world's zinc supply. 90% of the world's artificial teeth supply.
52% of the world's coal supply.

The United States also refines 80 per cent of the copper and oper-ates 40 per cent of the world's railroads.

Before the war we owed other nations five billion dollars. We have not only paid this debt but foreign nations now owe us ten billion dollars and we hold the largest gold reserves of any nation in the world.

United States Troops, backed by good United States brains and grit, delivered the "knockout" blow that ended the war. And don't worry but that the same brains and grit will successfully solve all the problems of peace and reconstruction.

Mrs. Rachael Killian was agreeably surprised Sunday when her daughters Mrs. Millie Mills and Mrs. Ira Killian entertained a number of relatives and friends in celebration of her 77th birthday anniversary. Dinner was served at noon at the home of Mrs. Ira Killian, Sidney, a lovely birthday cake holding 77 lighted candles centered the table. Present were Mrs. E. A. Tapscott, Mr. and Mrs. Minor Crossley, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Crossley, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. William Laverett, son Harry and daughter Frances, Mrs. W. A. Hardesty and daughter Grace, all of Lima, Mr. and Mrs. John Mills, daughter Edith and son George and Basil, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Killian, daughters Margery and Elizabeth, and son Arthur. Mrs. Rachael Killian, all of Sidney, and the four guests.

Mrs. M. F. Allen was honored, a delightful birthday surprise at her home Sunday when a group of her friends gathered at her home. At 6 o'clock an elaborate dinner was served and the remainder of the evening was devoted to music and dancing.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Max and Heffer, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward East, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vertz, and family, Mrs. Delrick, Miss Jessie Delrick, Miss Dorothy Allen, Miss Anna Sam, Walter Sam, H. R. Booth, P. Wayne, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Allen.

Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Trinity M. E. church will meet at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock instead of 2:30 o'clock as scheduled. This will enable all to attend the House Lecture. This meeting will be in the form of a reception to welcome the new members into the organization. A membership campaign was held during the past week and a number of new members were added.

Members of the Sorosis club enjoyed a very interesting meeting at home of Mrs. J. W. Simpson Monday. The first part of the afternoon was devoted to a business session during which eight new members were voted into the club. The remainder of the afternoon was spent away socially, a light tea being served at 7 o'clock by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. J. Simpson.

The club will meet in two weeks but the place has not been definitely decided upon as yet.

Mrs. T. L. Brunk welcomed the members of her bridge club to her home on W. Elm-st. Tuesday. Profusions of spring flowers added an artistic note of color to the room. After an afternoon enjoyed in cards a light luncheon was served by the hostess. Guests other than members were Mrs. W. A. Nobel, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. H. J. Brunk, Mrs. Edward Stupp, Mrs. L. L. Morris and Mrs. Oliver Steiner.

Miss Blanche Phinley, S. Metcalf, entertained a number of friends at her home Monday evening with a miscellaneous shower for the pleasure of Mrs. F. L. Lewis (Carolyn Summers). The collation was served at tables each of which were graced at its center with lovely tulips, while a soft light was furnished by candles.

Guests included: Mrs. Henry Evans, Miss Nina Evans, Mrs. P. P. Stafford, Miss Helen Cox, Miss Nellie Krato, Miss Leonie Feltz, Mrs. John Hawisher, Mrs. Arthur Kassan and Mrs. Arthur Hunt.

Mrs. Arthur J. Feltz, Vincennes, Ind., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Burger and other relatives in this city.

Friends of Miss Lena Klotz, N. Jackson-st., will be pleased to learn of her marriage to William Hutchinson, which took place in Monroe, Mich., February 21, 1921.

Mrs. Jennie Eker extended the hospitality of her home on Brice-ave Monday evening to the members of the Chautauqua club. A well prepared paper was read by Mrs. S. E. Tidonour on "Notable Books" while Miss Florence Bowers gave an interesting review of several late books.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jenkins returned Sunday from an extended trip thru the south on a wedding journey. Their marriage was an event of the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Jenkins was before the ceremony Mrs. Grace Eaker. They will reside at 1022 W. Wayne-st.

THIS WIFE'S TROUBLE SEEM TO BE MANY

(By SUSIE SMART)

Dear Miss Smart: I AM a married woman and I am very much worried. My husband treats me cruelly. When we were first married he used to take me to shows and around with him every where. Now I have to stay at home and he leaves me alone every night. He says he hasn't any use for me at all. I love my husband and will do anything for him. I work and give him money. I buy his cigars for him and keep his clothes in order and do everything I could think of that will please him. I am worried for he admitted that I do. What would you do? If I say anything to him he says that he is acting like this I do. He would get a divorce because I love him. What shall I do? I can make my husband see me and care for me. TROUBLE WORRIED

IT IS to be regretted that there are some very selfish, self-devoted in this world who refuse to recognize the good in others and to imitate the kind acts which are done for them. When the time comes our favors and kindnesses are not recognized and partially return then time for us to stop wasting our strength and energy on such until they are willing to appreciate what is done for them.

Apparently, you have been a good wife and while you have been strengthening your own character by your faithfulness and kind your husband you have at the same time unconsciously spoiled him. He now seems to be a selfish man who does not value your good qualities.

While it is your place to be loyal to your husband and to be in all such things as your strength permits, it is not your duty for him and to "protect" him. He should be ashamed to think that such a weakling as to have his wife work for him and give him money and buy him cigars. If he were a man, he wouldn't accept money, nor would he permit you to work. Your house work is for you. Become interested in your home, keep it always attractive, pleasant, but do not over-tax yourself.

You say that your husband goes out every night. I suppose he expects you to stay at home. Don't do it. Go out and call on friends just as often as your husband does. If you have children, them along or have some reliable neighbor come in and stay with you.

You also said that your husband was interested in some one. Your husband loved you at one time and by a little clever planning your part you can probably win back that love. It is often said that man loves his wife, the way she dresses should not interfere with her for her. Strange to say, it makes all the difference in the world, it shouldn't. A woman who permits herself to grow careless in her dress and negligent in her appearance soon loses the respect and admiration which she should receive from her husband. Often if a man cannot see an attractive woman in his home he will go elsewhere to see one.

Does not mean that you must necessarily be beautiful in order to be attractive and look fresh and pretty at all times. If you have guilty of this neglect, resolve that henceforth you will try to overcome it.

Dear Miss Smart: Could you please tell me of something which will prevent eggs from breaking when you are poaching them? YOUNG WIFE

Dear Miss Smart: A teaspoon of vinegar put into the water when poaching eggs will prevent them from breaking.

Dear Miss Smart: Could you tell me where the magnolias got their name? I have heard that there is some history connected with the naming of them. CURIOUS

STOLEN AUTO IS FOUND

"Milk Way" in Wapak Street
When Runaway Occurs

WAPAKONETA (Special) —
Dr. Thornburgh of the state department of health has investigated smallpox conditions in Cridersville, where the disease has broken out in mid form. A vaccination order affecting the Cridersville school district is imminent. The county board of health adopted a resolution to the effect that hereafter quarantine regulations must be rigidly enforced.

The seven-passenger auto of Win-

Don't Spoil Your Hair
By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.
The best thing to use is Multisilf shampoo. It is gentle, for this is entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and costs anything else 2 to 3 times as much. You can get Multisilf at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.
Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and removes every particle of dust, grease and dandruff, so sure your scalp gives you Multisilf. —Adv.

NUXATED IRON

Helps make rich, red blood and revitalize weak nerves

YOU MAY BE A BETTER MAN AT 45, THAN THE YOUTH OF 25

If you keep your blood rich in iron to give you plenty of "stay there" strength and endurance.

In an account of a severe mountain climbing test, a New York newspaper states that 20 percent of those who accomplished the feat were 45 years and over. It is therefore known that you may be a better man at 45 than the musk stripping of 25 if you take care of yourself and keep your blood filled with iron. Prize fighters, wrestlers and athletes have learned the value of plenty of plain coarse foods in their training as such a diet helps supply their blood with iron. Nature put plenty of iron in the husks of grains and the seeds of vegetables to enrich your blood, but modern methods of cookery throw all these things away—hence the startling increase in recent years in anemia—iron starvation of the blood, with its devastating weakness, nervousness and other attendant ills. If you are not strong and well, if you lack bodily and mental vigor, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but take some organic iron like NUXATED IRON at once to help enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves. Organic Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. You can even eat it if you wish. It often increases your bodily and mental vigor in a few weeks' time.
Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I.
on every tablet. At all druggists.—Adv.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment
Given by One Who Had It

In the year of 1893 I was afflicted by "Muscular" and "Sciatic" Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted can know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely and has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.
I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sciatic (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power.
Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address, and I will send it free to try. After you have used it, and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it.
Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer, when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay.

TWO HUNDRED MILE DOG DERBY STARTS TODAY—ST. ROSE PLAYS PIQUA RETURN GAME HERE TONIGHT—SOX START SOUTH FRIDAY

200 MILE DOG DERBY FOR HUDSON BAY STAKE STARTS

THE PAS, Manitoba—Nine drivers, with teams composed of from seven to thirteen dogs, were scheduled to face the starter at 11 a. m. today, in the annual 200 mile Hudson Bay dog derby from here to Elm Flon and return.

Mild weather prevailed and a slushy trail brought the dogs into the race with moccasins-covered feet. The event probably will end Wednesday.

The derby is the main event of a two day program of Northern winter sports, including special dog races for women "mushers." Several local women have announced their intention of entering teams.

While weather conditions are not the best for fast racing, keen competition is assured the favorite, Walter Goynne, an Alaskan of long experience and winner of last year's derby, by the entry of Sam Plateau with his powerful team of all-white huskies.

MOBILIZE SOX TIFFIN NEXT FRIDAY FOR LONG TRIP

CHICAGO—Business of mobilization will occupy the time and attention of Chicago baseball officials, and fans this week. The second squad of Cubs is due to leave for California Thursday and Manager E. J. "Doc" Evers will celebrate his birthday by starting the south side training trip Friday.

Thirteen athletes of the battery persuasion are expected to convene at White Sox headquarters in time to embark Friday night under Evers' chaperonage for Wexahachic, Tex. The Sox pilot has notified Secretary Glabner that he will emerge from winter quarters in time to reach Chicago tomorrow and help superintend the arrangements for the getaway.

COMING TO VISIT CAMP
President Comiskey of the Sox will be in California suifling the blossoms in his almond grove, but will visit the training camp on his return east.

The players who are expected to start from here will include three catchers, Ray Schalk, George Leno, and J. R. Schacht, and ten pitchers, Faber, Wilkinson, Frank, Kiefer, Pomeroy, Texas, Mulreanu, McWeney, Fournier, and King.

Although other players and backstops will join the team on the way, or report direct to Wexahachic to make Gleason's preliminary squad consist of twenty-two men. They will work out for a week in the Texas camp before the rest of the Sox report for duty. When all are assembled, the Sox pilot will have forty men on his hands.

OUR PARTY UNDER SEES

The regulars of the Sox team will begin to arrive in town tomorrow, as they are booked to leave for Pasadena in charge of Secretary Evers Thursday night. By the time they reach the coast, the pitchers and catchers, now working out in Avalon, will return to the regular training camp in Pasadena prepared for regular batting practice.

Regarding the complaint of Buck Herzog that he could not obtain a job in the National League, President Voss of the Cubs declared yesterday there was no disposition on the part of the club owners to bar him on account of the charges made against him by Ruth Benton. Herzog was released by the Chicago club, he said, because of his poor showing last season and because of his length of service in the major leagues entitled him to an unconditional release. Proof that there was no disposition to bar him from organized baseball is found in the fact he has had offers from several of the larger minor leagues.

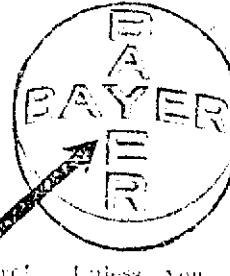

LYNCH DEFENDS HIS TITLE

DETROIT—The heavyweight championship is retained today by Joe Lynch of New York. Had it not been for his putting Young Montross of Providence down for the count of eight in their ten round bout here last night, however, Lynch might have come out of the fight on the short end. The earlier rounds were unimpressively slow and feet.

In the semi-final, Eddie Gallagher of Hamilton, Ont., demonstrated that he is a good two handed boxer when he whipped Eddie Kitchell, of Toledo, in an eight round go.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Be aware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on packages of tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for colds, headache, neuritis, rheumatism, earache, toothache, lambo, and for pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture, Mont-scheidt-deister of Salzeberg, Germany.

GOPHER GRID COACH SAYS RULES O. K.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Any radical changes in present football rules would be "most unfortunate," in the opinion of Dr. H. L. Williams, football coach of the University of Minnesota, given in a statement. He referred to the coming meeting of the football rules committee at New York, March 11.

"As played today, football is a well balanced and most interesting game with a careful adjustment between the possibilities of offense and defense," said Coach Williams. "Most football enthusiasts probably agree that the game, which is now nicely adjusted, might be upset. "Changes in the rules which at first glance seem to be unimportant might change the whole balance and lead to radical changes in the style of play, with serious consequences to the game."

"The American public thoroughly appreciates and enjoys the present game, as is witnessed by the tremendous crowds attending the contests."

U. OF P. BASKETBALL PLAYER IS A STAR

PITTSBURGH—University of Pittsburgh, which brought on Frank Shea, the 47 3-5 quarter miler; Bob Peck, George McLaren, Herb Stein and other remarkable foot-ball stars of the last decade, seems to have claim to the most sensational basketball performer in the Eastern part of the country in Lloyd Jordan, a forward.

Jordan's phenomenal work in a recent trip taken by the Panthers has served to strengthen this claim. Pitt on a three-game jaunt played Colgate, Syracuse and West Point, a trio of top-notchers. Against Colgate Jordan simply ran wild, tossing in eleven baskets from the floor and also more than holding up his end at foul shooting.

At Syracuse the following night he negotiated eight baskets, and in the final game with West Point he duplicated the trick, giving him a total of twenty-seven for the three games, or an average of nine.

These figures are right in line with the record he has been making all year against strong teams. In both the Yale and Dartmouth games, which Pitt won, he put the ball thru the ring nine times. Penn State which has one of the strongest teams in college circles and which beat Pitt in a close game here, had their eye on the Pitt star all the time, yet he scored seven baskets.

Jordan is a graduate of Pennsylvania High School and made a great record as a prep performer. On the Pitt freshman team last year he could not be stopped by the opposition.

"BUDDIES" TO GREET HANK IN SOUTH

GALVESTON, Texas—"Buddies" from the Railroad (42nd) division will welcome Hank Gowdy to Galveston, according to an announcement today by Adrian Levy, commander of the local post of the American Legion.

The lanky catcher of the Boston Braves will arrive with the first contingent of Manager Mitchell's players, probably March 7. Tentative plans of the local legionnaires, contemplate a reception or a smoker to Gowdy's honor. Gowdy is said to have been one of the first stars of baseball to desert the diamond after the declaration of war.

JACK PERRY IS NAMED COACH

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Jack Perry, a welterweight of this city, and who has been matched to fight Jack Britton at Madison Square Garden on March 17, has been appointed coach of the Carnegie Tech. boxing team. It was learned here today. Perry has taken up his new duties.

ST. ROSE HAS HARD GAME TONIGHT

A game promises to be a thriller is scheduled to be played tonight at the St. Rose auditorium when the St. Rose Hi basketball team stacks up against a team representing Piqua Hi.

Recently at Piqua these two teams played to a tie, and because of the locals having to catch a car the score was left even, 29 to 29.

Tonight, besides playing a return game, the tie will be played off with 5 minute intervals.

St. Rose will use their regular line-up.

LEW TENDLER IS GIVEN DRAW

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Lew Tandler of Philadelphia, and Sailor Friedman, of Chicago, lightweight, fought ten rounds to a draw here last night.

ROCKETS WITH OIL CALM ANGRY WAVES

LONDON—Rockets that scatter oil, with the object of calming the sea, were recently tested at Brighton.

"You fire the rockets from the ship into the wind, oil drifts back round the boat, calming the water to a certain extent over a wide area," said Commander A. L. Strang, the inventor.

"One can only at present put oil down where one is," he said. "The tests were not very successful, owing to small mechanical defects, but I hope to get over these."

The rockets, it is claimed, can be used from the foreshore to enable a lifeboat to be launched more easily, as well as to aid the lifeboat to approach a distressed vessel with less danger.

IT WORKED WONDERFULLY

Have you noticed the number of persons coughing this Spring, caused by an irritated condition in the chest, bronchial tubes or throat? This coughing is banished by a few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. Anna Stein, 410 Western Ave., Covington, Ky., writes: "Your cough medicine worked wonderfully on our little son. He is subject to bronchitis. The first doses helped him." Good for all sorts of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and grip coughs.—Chas. J. Vorkamp, Main and McKelben-sts.—Adv.

CUB BATTERY MEN PITCH '21 CAMP

AVALON, Catalina Island.—The Cubs arrived here Sunday in good order and started to work on the ball field this morning. The journey from Los Angeles was accomplished without untoward incident. The squad which came out from Chicago was greeted at Los Angeles by Catcher Bill Killefer and Everett Gomes.

The party was escorted to the steamer "Avalon" at Wilmington by William Wiegler, Jr., owner of the island, but will come over to Catalina by the "Speed" Martin.

The Cubs stepped into cloudy but midsummer weather and the first thing they did was doff their overcoats.

Catcher "Speed" Martin was the only missing member when Manager Johnny Evers checked up. "Speed" has been spending a more or less profitable winter at San Diego adjacent to which there has been horse racing. He may appear later. In any event, Evers is not worrying, for he has hurling talent by the gross.

QUARTERS PLEASE EVERS
"The training arrangement so far as I have seen them are the best I ever experienced," Evers said. "I can see no reason why the battery men should not get into condition without delay. This will be of great assistance as the main squad can have good batting practice when it arrives."

The Cubs will remain here until next Sunday, sailing for Pasadena late in the day.

AMERICAN SINGER WINS PRAISE ABROAD

CANNES.—Visitors to this sunny resort are enthusiastic in their praise of Mrs. W. F. Melhuish, investment broker, of New York, who has scored a great success by her singing at Municipal Casino here.

Mrs. Melhuish studied under Count Jean de Reszke, and he claims she is a second Patti. Reynaldo Hahn, the composer, said of Mrs. Melhuish, "She has a bird in her throat and I have never heard any one sing Caru Nome as well as she."

Mrs. Melhuish had to reap five times, so great was the applause of her distinguished audience.

500 OHIO MINISTERS AT COLUMBUS MEETING

COLUMBUS—More than 500 Ohio ministers of many denominations had arrived in Columbus this afternoon to attend a convention called by the Ohio Federation of Churches to make plans for the spring evangelistic campaign.

Rev. F. O. Blanchard, Cleveland; Rev. B. F. Lamb, Columbus and President J. Knox Montgomery of Muskingum College, New Concord, were scheduled to address sessions today.

CRIPPLED BOAT SAVED

CINCINNATI—When a floating wash tub in the hull of a Green Line wharfboat in the Ohio river harbor here early today, a distress call summoned city fire department pumping engines which were driven aboard the boat. They pumped eight feet of water from the hold and held back the flood until a bulkhead could be built around the hole.

TREND OF STOCK MARKET DOWN

General List Slumps. But Consolidated Gas Gains

NEW YORK — The one conspicuous exception at the heavy opening of today's stock market was Consolidated Gas, which rose 2 3/8 points as a result of the court decision allowing the company to charge a higher rate. Atlantic Gulf and Mexico Petroleum also rose moderately, but the general list was distinctly downward, foreign advices giving momentum to the decline. Western Pacific forfeited part of yesterday's advance and other rails were unusually lower. Steels, equipments, motors, oils, chemicals and copper also receded. Foreign exchange was dull, but London rates were slightly over yesterday's final quotations. Shorts sold freely during the morning when cables indicated that Germany's proposals were disappointing. Oils, shipwrecks, steels and food and chemical shares were weaker. General Asphalt fell 1 1/2 and other oils 1 to 1 1/2. Atlantic Gulf reacted 2 1/4 to a new low and Petroleum Marine preferred and United Fruit lost 1 1/4. Vanadium Steel fell 1 1/2 and Crucible 1. Fairly heavy selling of rails forced Northern Pacific and Norfolk and Western down 1 point. St. Paul losing 1 1/2 and Lehigh Valley. Other reactions included General Electric, Westinghouse, Stomberg Carburetor, East Peabody, May Department Stores and International Paper. American Woolen strengthened on a reduction of the regular dividend. Old money opened at the usual rate of 1 per cent. Liquidation and short selling effected substantial depreciation of prices in today's broad and active stock market, many leaders losing 1 to 2 points. Sales approximated 600,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

BULLET SHATTERS GLASS IN HOME

Mayor Issues Order Against Shooting in City

A general warning against discharging of firearms within the city limits was issued Tuesday morning by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt as the result of a police investigation into shooting near the home of W. A. Burkhardt, Spring and Baxter-sts. Several days ago a rifle bullet broke the glass in a door of the Burkhardt home and narrowly missed Burkhardt's small daughter. Detective Reed and Billstone investigated and found that boys had been firing rifles in the vicinity and that the bullet that came so close to the little girl was undoubtedly a stray shot. Mayor Burkhardt Tuesday morning instructed Safety Director Fred Fisher to take steps necessary to break up this menace to public welfare. It is a violation of a city ordinance to discharge firearms inside the city limits and the Mayor says that this ordinance will be rigidly enforced.

CHARLES W. ZIMMERMAN SUCCEUMS TO ILLNESS; FUNERAL ON THURSDAY

Funeral services for Charles W. Zimmerman, 41, 945 N. West-st., who died Monday from diabetes, after eight months' illness, will be held Thursday at 10 o'clock from the First United Brethren church, Spring and Union-sts. The Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor, will officiate. Interment in Salem cemetery. Zimmerman was engaged in the oil business. He was born in Hardinco in January, 1880. Besides the widow, he is survived by two daughters, Mary Elizabeth, 11, and Edith Gertrude, 7. J. G. Zimmerman, Newark, are surviving brothers and Mrs. Alice Tull, Mrs. Cora Van Horn and Mrs. Grace Meade, all of Lima, sisters.

GUN CLUB PLANS WORKING OUT

To Erect Home in Maple Grove Costing $7,000

Plans for the financing of a building project by the Lima Gun Club near the new billion gallon reservoir and for a membership campaign to start immediately were made at a meeting of interested persons at the Owen Bros. carriage shop Monday night. It is planned that a holding company of at least two persons shall finance and construct the new home, putting up a Club house to cost between $5,000 and $7,000 and putting the grounds in general good order. The Gun Club shall then lease or buy the property from the holding company. A start was made Tuesday morning towards the removal of the old transfer station from the Lima public square to the club grounds at the end of Elm-st. The club will keep the old land mark in good condition and preserve it as a relic of the old days. Members of the Gun Club are very desirous of increasing the membership of the club so that it will become the leading sporting club of Lima. J. W. Reed, secretary and treasurer of the club, believes that the club will do much to stimulate sportsmanship in Lima. If present plans are carried out, the club's home will offer an excellent place for business men to take their families for a days outing. The maple grove on the bank of the beautiful lake makes an ideal park. The club house is to be built in rustic style with an exterior stucco finish and two fire places and a large dining room in the basement.

WAYFARERS' HOME

Social Club Elects President and Plans Building

Forty members of the Inner club of the Wayfarers club attended a dinner meeting at 6:15 at the Elks' home Monday evening and decided to change the name of the organization to the Wayfarers' Dinner club. Plans were also launched for the acquiring of property for the erection of a club home, in the downtown district. H. J. Strasburg was elected president and appointed Dwight Neff secretary and Earl Hall treasurer. Addresses were given at the dinner by Ralph Mackenzie, Don John, William Snyder and Frank Wallace. The Wayfarers' club is one of the most prominent in the city, having enrolled as members representatives of the young business men of Lima.

FARM HAND HURT

Curtin Farm Employee Thrown by a Runaway Team

Harry Young, 25, unmarried, farm-hand employed by Walter Bower, had his right arm fractured and suffered bruises of the entire body in a runaway accident Monday afternoon. Young, who does farm work for Bower, tenant on the Emmitt R. Curtin farm, N. Cole-st road, was driving the horses. The team became frightened and started to run. Young was thrown to the ground. Recovery is assured, according to word from the City hospital, to which Young was removed in the Williams and Davis ambulance.

SHORT SHAVINGS

A very cultivated woman who writes excellent verse and who, from her sense of beauty, still clings to the old-fashioned...

Wordsworth—to say nothing of our Whitman—was taken to a poetry society reception the other evening. Not liking verse libre she is not familiar with the names of its exponents...

"Dick didn't blow his brains out when you rejected him. He came around and proposed to me."

"Mrs. Dugan (reading paper)—"Here's a man suing for divorce because his wife goes thru his pockets. What would yez do if yez..."

HUNGRY BUT DAREN'T EAT

Take "Pape's Diapiesin" and eat favorite foods without fear

Your meals hit back! Your stomach is sour, acid, gassy and you feel bloated after eating or you have heavy lumps of indigestion pain or headache, but never mind. Here is instant relief.

Don't stay upset! Eat a tablet of Pape's Diapiesin and immediately the indigestion, gases, acidity and all stomach distress caused by acid-ity ends.

Pape's Diapiesin tablets are the sweetest, quickest stomach relievers in the world. They cost very little at drug stores.

MOTHER!

"California Syrup of Figs" Child's Best Laxative

Accept "California" Syrup of Figs only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its fruity taste. Full directions on each bottle. You must say "California."—Adv.

I Had Catarrh So Bad

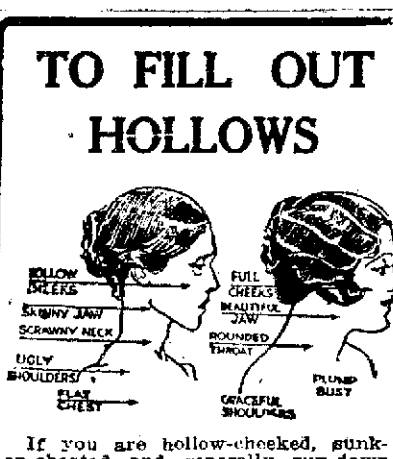

I could not hear my congregation sing in church. I was fortunate enough to get a treatment of Dr. Burkhardt's Vegetable Compound. I have been restored. My health is good and I owe it all to this great medicine. Rev. A. S. Andrews, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Don't fail to write for a treatment. They when cured. Address 621 Main St. Cincinnati, O. 20 days' treatment, 25c; 70 days, 50c. At all druggists.—Adv.

Cuticura Soap —The Healthy— Shaving Soap

TO FILL OUT HOLLOWS

If you are hollow-cheeked, sunken-eyelid and generally run-down and want to round out your face and figure to pleasing and normal proportions you will find this simple test well worth trying: First, weigh yourself and measure your neck. Next take Vitamin—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Vitamin regularly until you are satisfied with your weight and energy. Vitamin mixes with what you eat, helps it to digest and supplies your body with that health-giving, strength-building nourishment—the vitamins—which is destroyed in the cooking of so many everyday foods. A woman who had been thin for years and was down to 37 pounds took Vitamin and soon gained 21 pounds. Many others have increased their weight to normal in only a short time. Results are absolutely guaranteed or money returned. Be sure to remember the name VITAMON. All good druggists have it in stock.—Adv.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Farnim (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Evening should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of small, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by the efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Adv.

THE WOMAN SUFFERING

Mrs. H. A. Loaman, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble for years. I tried everything. No help. They helped me so much I feel fine. Now I feel fine. I could live. Recommend Sloan's Liniment to all who suffer trouble as I did."—Chas. J. Main and McKibben-sta.—A
